A Note from Mr. Ken Chaffin - Principal

Dear Bobcat Family:

The faculty and staff of Grandview Heights High School are eager as we begin 2013-2014 school year. We believe that this is an exciting era of education, and we are committed to all things great for Grandview students. We also believe the experience as a student here should reflect excitement and fond memories. Tradition and history are clearly hallmarks of Grandview Heights High School, and we are excited to partner with you in the responsibility of carrying on and building on the great story that is GHHS. With tradition comes responsibility.

If you are ever in need of information that is not included in The Harbinger, please contact the main office of GHHS and we will be happy to assist in getting you the information that you need.

We believe that high school should be some of the most active, engaging, and enjoyable years of one's life. The investment and involvement in school activities will not only enrich our building, but will also enrich the experience and most importantly who our students become. Please take the opportunity to invest in GHHS, the Grandview community, and in yourself by getting involved!

At GHHS we believe that authentic partnerships between faculty, staff, students, and parents is essential in obtaining the absolute best out of our students in the holistic sense. I strongly urge all parents to partner with our faculty and staff in all ways possible to help us help your son/daughter reach their full potential.

PTBB (Proud To Be a Bobcat)!!

Grandview Library Student Newsletter

September 2013

Grades 7-12

There is no end to education. It is not that you read a book, pass an examination, and finish with education. The whole of life, from the moment you are born to the moment you die, is a process of learning.
Jiddu Krishnamurti

What Can the Library Do For You?

Dear Students, Parents, and Teachers,

Welcome back to another year of learning! This newsletter is our way of reminding you about all of the fantastic digital services the Library has to help you and your student navigate the educational waters.

The Library offers dozens of online resources (too many to mention in this newsletter!), and we encourage you to explore our website or stop in to talk to staff about what we have available.

In this edition, we will focus on our Live Homework Help (great for when you need help after hours), Mango Languages (learn Pirate! Or, you know, practice Spanish pronunciation), FreedomFLIX (American History), Know It Now (24/7 help from librarians), eBooks, and research databases.

All of these electronic resources are available through our website in our Digital Library (ghpl.org/answers). Some of them require a Library card, but don't worry: even if you have fines on your Library card you are still able to gain access. Feel free to call us or stop by if you have any account questions. We would love to help you get connected!

Sincerely,
Jennifer Lawson
Teen Librarian, GHPL

Doing Some Research?

Have you ever been working on a paper in the middle of the night and thought "I wish the library was open so I could ask the librarians for help!"?

If you have access to a computer, you have access to librarians 24/7 through Know It Now. Degreed librarians from all over Ohio staff this online reference service so that anyone in the state of Ohio (including people who aren't students) can have around-the-clock help getting questions answered.

They can even help you figure out how to cite your sources.

As your teachers have surely stressed, it is important to get authoritative sources for your papers and to not just rely on Google and Wikipedia for research. These librarians can help set you on the right path.

Learn a New Language

Have you thought about learning a foreign language? Need help with your Spanish verbs? Have to work on your pronunciation?

Language courses, tutoring, and software can be expensive, but the Library offers free online language lessons through Mango Languages.

Mango Languages offers both basic and in-depth instruction in almost fifty different languages.

You can choose which sections you want to study, and you can revisit challenging sections as many times as you like. Take a look today!

Looking for Journal Articles for Your Paper or Project?

Many Grandview Students learned about our research databases when the English classes visited the Library in August, but we wanted to remind you that there's a ton of info to be found in the many international journals and newspapers, encyclopedias, and digital versions of specialized reference books.

Some of our favorites are EbscoHost (for magazines, periodicals, and newspapers), Opposing Viewpoints (for information from both sides of controversial topics), and the Gale Virtual Reference Library.

Feel free to search the Research section of our webpage, or stop in and talk to a Reference librarian for help with these amazing tools.

Free eBooks

Think you need an eReader to read eBooks? Think again!

You can access thousands of books from Digital Downloads using the library's Overdrive app on your smartphone or tablet OR you can read eBooks right on your PC with the free Adobe Digital Editions program.

Interested in even more eBooks? Check out Freeding, a new service from the makers of Freegal (psst, if you love music and want free, permanent downloads, you should check Freegal out too!)

Live Homework Help

Free online homework help is available through the Library's paid subscription to tutor.com.

Students can talk to experienced subject specialists about math, science, reading, and more!

Available from 3-11pm daily, you'll be able to work through homework assignments with professional help.

This valuable resource is only available from one other Ohio library, so be sure to take advantage of it!
